Escape the ordinary and answer the call of the wild. Our Tambopata's Best Jungle Tour is your gateway to an unforgettable 5-day journey into the heart of the Peruvian Amazon, where every moment is an adventure waiting to happen. This isn't just a trip; it's a meticulously crafted experience designed for nature lovers seeking a profound connection with one of the world's most biodiverse ecosystems.

Day 1: Puerto Maldonado City - Sandoval Lake

Upon arrival, you will be met at the Puerto Maldonado Airport, bus terminal, or your local accommodation. From there, you will be transferred to our office for a brief stop to repack your luggage.

Next, we will begin a one-hour boat journey along the Madre de Dios River to the Sandoval Lake trail. After completing the necessary registration at the Tambopata National Reserve checkpoint, we will take a 3-kilometer walk along a boardwalk. This is an excellent opportunity to spot various wildlife, including monkeys, sloths, and macaws.

Continuing our journey, we will navigate a canoe through a tranquil channel, looking for reptiles like caimans and anacondas, before paddling across Sandoval Lake to our lodge. Once you have settled in and been introduced to the facilities, you will have time to relax.

In the afternoon, a guided walk along the lodge's trails will allow us to observe the rainforest's nocturnal creatures, such as tarantulas and other unique insects and spiders.

Day 2: Sandoval Lake Exploration - Sunrise - Transfer to Puerto Maldonado

We'll start the day before dawn, waking up early to experience a breathtaking sunrise over Sandoval Lake. We'll paddle across the water as the jungle awakens, searching for the highly social giant river otters and other unique wildlife like red howler monkeys, squirrel monkeys, and colorful macaws.

After a delicious breakfast at the lodge, we'll begin our journey back. We'll paddle across the lake, walk the 3-kilometer boardwalk, and board our boat for the return trip to Puerto Maldonado.

From there, we'll take a two-hour drive to the Philadelphia River port before embarking on a new boat journey up the Tambopata River to the Collpas Inn Lodge.

Once we arrive at the lodge, we'll take an afternoon walk along the trails. Your guide will point out medicinal plants and help you look for wildlife such as peccaries and different species of monkeys. We'll end the day with a well-deserved dinner at the lodge.

Day 3: Collpas Inn Lodge - Boat Ride - Chuncho Clay Lick

We'll begin the day with an early morning departure, navigating up the Tambopata River to witness a magnificent sunrise as we travel. Your guide will handle a brief registration at the checkpoint, allowing you to stay focused on the incredible scenery.

Next, we'll take a short walk to a designated viewing spot along the riverbank to await the main event: the Chuncho Macaw Clay Lick. We'll sit patiently as hundreds of vibrant macaws and parrots descend from the jungle canopy to ingest the mineral-rich clay. This breathtaking and colorful spectacle, which can last for a couple of hours, is a photographer's dream.

Enjoy a picnic breakfast in the heart of this stunning natural arena. After the show, we'll take a scenic boat ride back down the Tambopata River, where we'll continue our wildlife search for capybaras, caimans, and, with some luck, even the elusive jaguar.

After lunch at the lodge, we will take a guided walk through the forest. Your guide will provide insights into the delicate balance of the neotropical ecosystem and its diverse flora and fauna. The highlight of the afternoon will be climbing one of the highest canopy towers in the Amazon, offering a stunning bird's-eye view of the rainforest.

The evening will conclude with a guided night walk, where you can search for nocturnal creatures before or after dinner

Day 4: Collpas Inn Lodge - Puerto Maldonado City

Wake to the rainforest's early chorus—often with birds overhead and the distant calls of howler monkeys. After breakfast at the lodge, take a 30-minute boat ride to reach productive wildlife and fishing areas along the river. Continue with a guided nature walk through primary forest, learning about towering trees, jungle ecology, and the monkey species that live in this habitat. You'll also visit a local farm to understand how people sustainably work with the Amazon environment. After lunch back at the lodge, head out in the afternoon to the mammal clay lick, a key feeding site where sightings may include howler monkeys, deer, and wild pigs. Dinner at the lodge.

Day 5 : Collpas Inn Lodge - Puerto Maldonado City

Your last day in the Amazon will begin with an early wake-up call to the symphony of the rainforest, from the calls of tropical birds to the deep roars of red howler monkeys.

After a final breakfast at the lodge, we'll start our journey back. Enjoy one last motorboat ride along the Tambopata River, watching the sunrise over the water and observing the artisanal gold mining operations along the banks.

We'll then take a minivan from the Philadelphia River port to Puerto Maldonado, where we will drop you off at the airport, bus terminal, or your accommodation in the city.
